FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK
FEBRUARY 2010
BY HOWARD BARNES K0DFW

I haven't seen the sun for so long I think I forgot what it looked like. I don't think I can take much more of this fog and drizzle and no sunshine! At least, if it is foggy, it is warm, and now the arctic winds is making a come back, and snow and ice and all that good stuff!

Cliff, K0CA has been elected the new Mid

West Director for the ARRL. Way to go Cliff!
That is going to put our little Hannibal Radio Club on the map with ARRL higher ups as membership!!
That is very impressive!!

We had club elections for 2010, and we have a new officer for 2010. She is Luan KC9PGS, and her new office that she now holds is Vice President of the HARC. Way to go Luan!!
I want to thank J.D. W0AJD, for holding this office for the last couple of years, and thank him for all the help that he has provided me with, and I am looking forward to working with Luan on club business!

We will have our annual club nights out at the Golden Corral on February 6, at 6:00 P.M. here in Hannibal. If you know anyone that wants to come that has an interest in Ham Radio, bring them along. This is open to anyone, so come and join us.

We had a good meeting the other night with 26 people attending, and we had a lot of fun! We decided to have a K9P special event station April 30 to May 2. We will be once again running this from the Red Neck Retreat in the notorious Pike County, Illinois. Carol WA9EFV, is going to be our host to the event, and I guarantee you, there will be fun to be had. Never a dull moment at the Red Neck Retreat!!!!

Also I have some more good news to announce. WA9EFV, Carol is being awarded the award of 'Amateur of the Year Award'. This is an annual award that we give to a deserving member for their contribution to the club, and Ham Radio in general. Congratulations, Carol on receiving this award. Everyone be sure to attend the dinner at the Golden Corral on February 6, and see Carol get his award! Be there or be square!

Well, believe it not, but we had an increase in sunspots, and the propagation is up and running. A bunch of the guys in the club have been working world wide contacts, and picking up "new ones" for their DXCC award. I only hope that the sunspots stay up there for awhile, and give everyone a chance to work some good DX.

We won't have a February meeting on our regular time this month. Our February meeting will be our dinner meeting, February 6, so don't show up February 10 looking for a meeting, or you might be there by yourself.

Collinsville, Ill. Winter fest is January 30, at the Exposition center, and I think a bunch of the club members are going down, so you might want to go along, and see if you can find some good deals!

Well, I guess I had better hang it up for now, and get this sent to Bonnie so she can get it in the paper for this week. Thanks Bonnie for all the good work that you do for the club putting out the best newsletter in the state of Missouri! There is no doubt in my mind that this is true!!!!
73's everyone

DX Horizons February 2010 by Mike Nowack NA9Q

DX Notes & News... by na9q

News for February: Right now, if you are not checking the HF bands each morning you are missing some good opportunities for DX. More often than not over the last month, mornings have provided decent openings into Europe and in a couple of instances, on into the Middle East. As an indicator of recent activity, countries that I have heard on recent mornings on 20M include 5B4, SV, A7, TA, along with the other more common EU entities such as G, F DL, PA, EA and I. This is all due to the increasing solar flux which has been steadily improving, reaching 93.3 on the 15th, a level not seen in recent history before dropping back down into the low 80's on the 19th. The A and K indices have been up and down but on several days they were both very low and on these days several locals reported very good (quiet) conditions on 160M and 80M. Danny NG9R reported very favorable 160M noise levels on the 18th local. Darell, N9DT reported strong European signals on 160M on the evening of the 19th local. This is indeed the time of year to add to your low band 160, 80 and 40 Meter totals.

On the 19th Arlyce, NB9Q found John, VK7XX from Tasmania on 20M long path in the middle of our afternoon with a true 20 dB over S9 signal. She found another VK up the band about 7 kHz also working stateside stations. We have not heard such strong long path signals out of the South Pacific for quite some time. For the next few weeks it may pay to keep an ear open for these afternoon openings, as when they happen it can be interesting with deep pacific stations such as VK, ZL, 9M, DU, etc. coming in via long path over Europe.

CE0, Juan Fernandez – JA8BMK should now be active as CE0ZA until Feb 2 160-10M on SSB/CW/Digital modes. QSL direct to the home call.

CN, Morocco – MJ0ASP will be active Feb 18-31 as CN2MR, mostly CW. QSL direct to the home call.

3C0, Annobon Is. – CW/SSB/Digital activity by EA5BYP and EA5KM in April with calls and QSL info to be announced.

7Q, Malawi – Harry 7Q7HB will be active on CW and digital modes for the next three months. QSL direct to G0IAS only.

E5, No Cook Is. – E51WWB from Manihiki from 3-15 Feb on CW/SSB/Digital 40M-15M. QSL to home call, AD7AF.

JD1, Marcus Is. – If you need this one you might want to make a concerted effort to work JD1BMM which will be active until mid-Feb. Op JA6GXK reports the JA military station there will close down in Dec and the club station in February. JD1 may be rare in the future as a result. QSL direct via the QRZ.com address.

Cocos-Keeling Is. – NL8F will be active as VK9COF or VK9C/NL8F with activity in the ARRL DX Phone Test March 3-10. QSL to K8NA.

So. Cook Is. – Tim NL8F will follow Cocos Keeling with a stop in Roratonga as E51COF March 20-30 QSL to K8NA.

SV/A, Mt Athos – More info on activity by Monk Apollo. He is being plagued by pirate operators who come on following his active on-air periods. He has now begun to operate more RTTY as this mode disturbs the other residents of the monastery less. Look for him around 1700Z - 2100Z on 160M, 80M 40M and 30M. But beware the pirates!

6W, Senegal/J5UAP Guinea-Bissau – Peter is active as 6W2SC and J5UAP at the border between the two countries. Activity until the end of March mainly on the digital modes, 160-10M. QSL both to home call, HA3AUI.

February Notes: Last month I began a discussion of some of the issues the DXer faces in QSLing direct or to a foreign manager. As a follow up to the return postage issue, I found an interesting resource which gives some very good guidance on the cost of postage to send a single unit of mail back to the US from various foreign countries. Go to www.k4hb.com/postage.html. The site gives the postage rates to the USA for the most common foreign countries. A good guide when deciding how many green stamps to put into the envelope with your card and sae. You need to send enough but you don't want to waste money. QSLing is expensive enough.

This month I would like to continue with some suggestions on your QSL card design. A QSL card is a personal item, the design of which reflects an ops' individuality. However, the DXer must be careful that card design doesn't get in the way of receiving a return card from that rare DX station. First and foremost, use a standard card size, approximately 3.5" by 5.5" but no larger than 4" by 6". Odd sizes or unusual media only complicate things for everyone. Especially true when a special envelope size is required as a result of the odd card size. We all have received QSL cards of varying design. Some, really nice cards, and some rather plain Jane, or weird. I even received one once printed on a slab of wood! Nice, but not practical. However, the fancier, or more unusual the card, the greater the expense. Attractive, full color, custom picture cards are nice, but can be very expensive. Alternatively, a plain single sided card in one ink color on nice contrasting stock can be had for a couple pennies each, and can be more effective in getting a QSL from the foreign station. The thing to remember is that a foreign station, or a QSL manager who handles hundreds or thousands of cards has already seen every card design that you could possibly come up with, and he isn't interested in what you or your dog looks like. What he is looking for, is for you to make it easy and fast for him to process your request for a card. In most cases, the foreign ham or manager prefers a card with everything clearly presented on one side; your call, your location and address as well as the contact info. Having to flip the card over and back a time or two to get all your info only adds to his work. Save your fancy two sided card with the color picture for your more special contacts where it is more likely to be appreciated and the dog adored. This is especially true when QSLing to a manager as the actual DX station will likely never see your card anyway.

Besides sloppy handwriting, the most common error that gets in the way of getting a confirmation back is confusion on the date and or time of the contact. Always use the 24 hour GMT clock (i.e. 1234Z) to log your contacts and use the date format dd/mm/yyyy. While we Americans tend to use mm/dd/yyyy, we are universally out of sync with the rest of the world on this issue. If you logged a contact on July 4, 2009 and send a card with the date formatted 07/04/2009, the foreign station will read that as 7 April 2009 and will likely return your card with the feared 'Not in the log!' notation even though you had a good contact. The DX op faced with hundreds of incoming cards isn't likely to spend time searching his log looking for your call if your date or time formats don't match.

Good hunting on the bands... and remember the first rule of DX; always listen, listen, listen before calling.

Thanks to the ARRL DX Bulletins, the OPDX Bulletin and the 425DXN Bulletin for some of the information above.

73, and good DX, Mike, NA9Q
